

CLOCKWISE FROM TOP LEFT James Brown's country home in Co Galway is a work in progress; edged by a river for fishing; James lives in the converted granary before getting to work on the main house; a rural retreat, it's the perfect base for hunting, shooting and fishing; James enjoys the rural bliss; Arthur the fox keeps company; James on Jameson

